

ASSERTS GLENN HAS PRESSED ROAD CASES

Whitman's Charge of White-washing Is Denied by Osborn.

CALLS BENDEL TAG UNJUST

William Church Osborn, Democratic State chairman, can see why District Attorney Whitman should assail Gov. Glenn because Bendel is State Engineer and Sohmer is Comptroller. He says Mr. Whitman is inconsistent, and to prove it he quoted yesterday this sentence from the letter which Mr. Whitman sent to Charles H. Duell, Jr., on February 19 last:

"I doubt if the administration of the State Engineer's Department has ever been more incompetent, if indeed, it was not corrupt, than it was during the first term of Gov. Hughes, who, of course, had no direct control over a department presided over by an elected officer."

Mr. Osborn added: "The nominations of Mr. Bendel and Mr. Sohmer were made under the primary law without any indication or control by Gov. Glenn. These gentlemen must stand on their own records."

As everybody is firing questions at everybody else in this campaign, Mr. Osborn joined the sport yesterday by aiming two at Mr. Whitman. He said:

"Will Mr. Whitman explain his relations with Mr. Duell at or about the time he wrote the letter of February 19 and state what his purpose was in writing the letter?"

"Mr. Duell has covered the ground very fully in an interview published on July 8, but so far as I am concerned, Mr. Whitman has never made an adequate reply to Mr. Duell. In his statement of that date Mr. Duell says that Mr. Whitman and Mr. Barnes had a private talk in the District Attorney's apartment on July 1 or 2 last. At the conference with Mr. Duell and at the private talk with Mr. Barnes was the candidate of Frank Williams for the nomination of State Engineer and Surveyor on the Republican ticket discussed, and does Mr. Whitman believe that Mr. Williams, in view of his past history, is a suitable successor to Mr. Duell?"

Mr. Osborn said it was significant that in his up-State speeches Mr. Whitman is not repeating his charges of highway frauds.

"The reason is," Mr. Osborn said, "that the up-State people are the highways and know that they are in good condition and that more than a thousand miles of them have been built this year."

Mr. Osborn said that Mr. Whitman has charged in substance that Gov. Glenn has not taken steps to prosecute the offenders pointed out by John A. Hennessy and J. W. Osborn. The District Attorney has not kept him from saying what he was going on in this matter. The fact is that the Governor and Attorney-General Carmody appointed Peter B. Smith special Deputy Attorney-General to take charge of the prosecution of highway frauds. He has taken up every criticism by Messrs. Hennessy and Osborn that had any basis of fact at all. Wherever possible indictments have been obtained and where necessary the work has been energetic and thoroughgoing. Mr. Whitman and his associates can examine this record as they please, but they cannot point out a single case of whitewashing, indifference or neglect."

FRIENDS RALLY TO SEABURY.

Deprecate Anonymous Attack on Court of Appeals Candidate.

A spirit of approval and support was in evidence at a meeting which Justice Samuel Seabury's lawyer friends held last night at the Hotel Knickerbocker in his behalf as a candidate for Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Earlier in the day many of them had received by mail an anonymous pamphlet which charged Justice Seabury with playing to one side or the other in the election of 1913 of the Court of Appeals.

Edward E. McCall was one of those present who praised Justice Seabury. He said, in substance, that the anonymous attack was not made with the knowledge of Justice Seabury's opponent. Among others present were Judge Henry A. Goldensleeve, who acted as chairman; David Levermore, Warren Leeds, N. Taylor Phillips, Joseph S. Auerbach, J. Hampden Dougherty and Judge Rosalsky.

MRS. J. R. DAVIES ON HUSTINGS.

Speaks at Husband's Meetings, Runs
His Car and Does Clerical Work.

Mrs. John R. Davies, wife of one of the two Republican candidates for the Supreme Court, is campaigning with and for her husband. While he is talking at the Washington Heights Republican Club last night she was standing in an automobile outside the clubhouse and exhorting an overflowed meeting.

She has a chauffeur's license and is running the Davies car on the candidate's nightly trips. She has talked to five women's clubs this week and for recreation also directed their social work at Judge Davies's headquarters.

MISS PANKHURST "ALL ALONE."

Will Occupy Platform by Herself at War Meeting.

Miss Christabel Pankhurst's address on "The Great War" at Carnegie Hall Saturday afternoon promises to be largely attended. The house is already almost sold out. She will appear on the platform with her personal ideas of the war and its final effect on the cause of suffrage.

Mrs. Bethel Lawrence will arrive in New York on Monday and will speak under the auspices of the Woman's Political Union. Mrs. Lawrence will speak on "War and Women" at Carnegie Hall on October 30.

SUFF THERMOMETER AT $1,506.

Party Pleased With Results of First
Two Days Campaign.

Fifteen hundred and six is the mark reached by the suffrage thermometer which was installed on the north side of Columbus Circle last night.

Glynn Favors Lunches and Savings Banks in Schools

Believes Also It Is the Duty of State Physicians to Safeguard in Every Way the Health of the Pupils.

GREETED BY CROWDS IN UTICA AND OTHER TOWNS

Utica, Oct. 21.—One reason that the crowd which greeted Gov. Glenn, Thomas B. Lockwood, nominee for Lieutenant Governor; Martin W. Littleton and the other speakers on the Governor's special train was not larger when the Governor wound up his day here to-night was that the Lumbering Theatre, big as it is, cannot double or treble its seating and standing capacity. The biggest audience that has ever been in the theatre since the Brooklyn Academy of Music meeting a week ago last night filled the building.

Mayor James Smith presided at the meeting, at which Gov. Glenn elaborated his ideas on the public schools by saying in part:

"Attached to each public school should be a savings bank under proper regulation and supervision. In France savings banks of this kind are established institutions and are largely responsible for the characteristic thrift of the French people.

"There is need for thrift in youth. The place to teach it is in the schools. I would like to see the State provide school lunches for the children of the poor and it would like to see the State take care of the eyes and the ears and the teeth of the children of people who fail to appreciate the importance of such care."

Wants to Help the Poor.

"In every nation, Disraeli once said, 'there are two nations—the rich and the poor.' The rich can take care of themselves. I am for helping the poor. Too long our country schools have equipped only the boys and girls for city life. Country life is more attractive and more profitable to-day than a generation ago. Our country schools ought to teach agriculture, and the children of the poor ought to be taught the importance of such care."

Mr. Littleton, who followed, evidently pleased the big crowd if thunders of applause meant anything. He said:

"The record of Mr. Whitman as Comptroller of New York State is that he has prosecuted offenders. If this is a good claim for Mr. Whitman it is a good claim for the country schools of Germany, Italy and France too."

Mr. Littleton then took up the Governor's services as Comptroller in 1907 and went into the details of the work of the then Comptroller. He said that in the various countries in various countries, giving the names and dates of Gov. Glenn's successful efforts to indict and punish various grafters. He elaborated upon the conditions of Arthur B. Heed, Frederick Swanout, John W. Potter, John Collins, Samuel H. Jones, Albert H. Vandewater, George A. Pepper, Myron Jacobson and a dozen or more others in different countries.

"This is in brief," said Mr. Littleton, "the record of Mr. Glenn as Comptroller."

Compares Glenn and Whitman.

"What has Mr. Whitman done as District Attorney of New York? He has compared with this record for the enforcement of the law? For every grafter that he caught Glenn caught a dozen grafters in the public service, for every so-called murderer that Whitman prosecuted Glenn redeemed a locality from public plunder and pillage. For every ordinary prosecution which every ordinary attorney would make to make with the machinery of his office Glenn revived an unused statute, made it vital, sent his examiners into the counties of the State, unearthed the crookedness that had done and sent the crookedness on their way to the penitentiary."

"If Whitman has made an ordinary District Attorney in one county, Glenn was an extraordinary Comptroller over all the counties."

"We challenge Mr. Whitman to a comparison of his record with that of Mr. Glenn, and we invite the public to pass on those records impartially."

"All this Mr. Glenn did in cooperation with Gov. Hughes as they labored together to cleanse the State of its corruption and purge public office of all polluting influences."

Voters and Dr. Mary Walker applauded.

ILLEGAL VOTERS ARE WARNED BY WHITMAN

Denounces Election Laws and Glenn in His Speech at Oswego.

Oswego, Oct. 21.—Charles S. Whitman and his campaign party covered Madison, Oswego and the eastern end of Oswego county to-day, closing at Oswego with an audience of 1,200 at Richardson Theatre. Crowds greeted Mr. Whitman at every stop.

Mr. Whitman continued his condemnation of Gov. Glenn for his appointments and denounced Engineer Bendel, Comptroller Sohmer and other State officials. He also emphasized what he termed the "illegitimate provisions of the election law, one requiring affidavits in lieu of personal registration in the rural districts, and the other the so-called 'place of stage' provision. In his Oswego speech to-night Mr. Whitman read a telegram from his office in New York referring to two arrests for illegal registration in which the provision was used as a defence, and quoting the opinion of Justice Donnelly that the provision was unconstitutional. He said the Court of Appeals would so hold.

Mr. Whitman also read a letter from New York county until January 1, and I wish to announce to any man who intends to vote under this provision that I will see that they can't vote," announced Mr. Whitman.

Mr. Whitman discussed at length the failure of Gov. Glenn to act upon the report of his own investigator, J. W. Osborn, who recommended changes in the highway law. He reviewed the refusal of State Engineer Bendel to testify before the Grand Jury unless granted immunity, and said that the Governor had as yet failed to answer the question: "Do you approve of Bendel?"

Mr. Whitman said he would continue to ask this question until November 3, and if Glenn did not answer it the people would answer it in no mistaken way. Mr. Whitman was accompanied by M. Linn Bruce, F. M. Hugo of Watertown, candidate for State Engineer, Frank M. Williams, candidate for State Engineer; W. D. Cunningham, defeated candidate for State Engineer; and J. M. Thompson of Oswego, who was in Oswego county, at Utica, where a meeting was held at 1:30 o'clock, and Camden, in Oswego county, and at Pulaski and Mexico, where meetings were held in the open air.

McCall Association for Glenn.

The Edward E. McCall Association, which worked for Judge McCall in the campaign last year, has opened Glenn headquarters at Camden, where the Ass. Rep. Gardner in charge. Gov. Glenn will speak at one of its meetings on October 29. The association claimed 20,000 members last fall.

KAISER IS PLEASED BY GERARD METHODS

Like Herrick in Paris, Ambassador in Berlin Wins Success With Simplicity.

OFFICIAL'S WARM PRAISE

Charles Ferguson of the Department of Commerce, after spending a year in Europe investigating business conditions in a dozen countries, has returned to New York with high praise for the work of Ambassador James W. Gerard. Mr. Ferguson said yesterday:

"Mr. Gerard's success in Berlin, like Mr. Herrick's in Paris, is a compliment to all of us. The Germans like Gerard and the French like Herrick simply because a representative American is really a good deal of a human being. During the past year I happen to have had a lot to do with Ambassadors of several kinds and several countries, and I am all for the Gerard-Herrick kind and wish for the sake of the goodfellowship of nations that that type might be universalized and perpetuated."

Whitlock Is Another.

"Brand Whitlock in Brussels is of the same sort of course. These three men are playing a remarkable and memorable part in the big drama of these times. They represent the serenity and humanity of the United States, uttering its calm counsels of democracy in low pitched business tones in the midst of the whirling maelstrom of war."

"Of Gerard in particular I want to say this: He and his wife have filled their big house in Wilhelm Platz with a spirit of unaffected friendliness and hospitality. The housewarming when the Gerards went into the new embassy was not an affair of State but a merry and informal meeting of American students and sojourners in Berlin."

"My last impression of Mr. Gerard in his present official character is the picture of a good fellow with an abiding smile and a ready wit, sitting behind a desk and meeting and matching, or rather another, the subtleties of a German. But my later and abiding impression is of a man carrying a stiff posture and a dignified bearing into the high offices of Wilhelmstrasse and the audience room of the Emperor."

Why Kaiser Likes Him.

"I understand that circumlocution is not the fashion in matters of State at Berlin, and I suppose the Kaiser likes Gerard because they both have a way of going straight to the point. As I was leaving the city, the Ambassador said he was sorry I hadn't met the Emperor. I told him I didn't care to stand in a line to be presented at court, but that I would be very glad of an opportunity to discuss with the Kaiser the business problems that brought me to Berlin. 'That can be arranged,' said the Ambassador, 'if you will wait.' Yesterday I talked business with the Kaiser, and he said that nothing in the world suits him so well as to talk business."

"Gerard's business talk has a 'punch' that is his own. Kings like it—and commoners also."

BACKS WHITMAN BY 75,000.

Yale Wagers $500 to $1,000 With Norman E. Mack Against Glenn.

Here's one of the few real money election bets that have been made this week: Yale University has bet $500 to $1,000 with Norman E. Mack, ex-State and ex-national Democratic chairman, that Whitman will beat Glenn by at least 75,000.

Joseph Levinson, Republican leader in the Second Assembly district, Manhattan, says he has bet a friend $500 to $250 that Sulzer will get more votes than Davenport.

WHITMAN MEN CONFIDENT.

Tanner Says Reports From County
Leaders Are Favorable.

Virtually all of the Republican county chairmen have reported personally to State Chairman Tanner in the past week. Yesterday seventeen of them gave him the results of canvasses in their home neighborhoods. Later Mr. Tanner said: "The preliminary canvasses are entirely satisfactory and I feel confident of the election of the entire Republican ticket."

The most hopeful prophet was Chairman Simon of Erie. He said that at although only two days ago 15,000 plurality two years ago it would give Whitman a lead of 5,000 votes over Gov. Glenn.

FIVE N.Y. HOMICIDES TO ONE FOR LONDON

Statistics of Death by Violence
Show Increase Throughout United States.

READING, PA., SAFEST CITY

The number of homicides in the United States increased during 1913, according to an article in the current issue of the Spencer, the weekly insurance journal. Just exactly how many persons of both sexes and all ages died as the result of the act of another throughout the country in the year is not given, because, as the writer says, the statistics are lacking. He approximates the number from the census of the United States registration area for 1912, using his own statistics for thirty cities of the country. In 1912 there were 6,250 homicides, and as the figures he has obtained show an average increase of 0.4 per 100,000 of population he estimates that the general result will show the same increase over 6,250.

The average number of homicides, in which is included all deaths inflicted intentionally or unintentionally, exactly or feloniously, in thirty large cities of the country was 8.7 for every 100,000 of population. In ten year terms this is compared with the decade ended in 1903, which was 4.9, and the decade preceding that, which was 4.2 for every 100,000. A point is made that the real increase may not have been so great because in the earlier periods the statistics were by no means so complete as they are now.

The last year has been exceeded only once and that was in 1907, when the average was 8.8.

In the cities themselves Memphis, Tenn., leads all others with a rate of 65 for every 100,000, and Reading, Pa., is the lowest, with only 1, which is the only homicide reported there for the year.

New York does not appear as a city in the statistics, but Manhattan and the Bronx are given together and Brooklyn separately. There seems to be no data for Queens or Richmond. The two boroughs first named had 211 homicides during the year, which gave them a percentage of 7.1 to their 100,000 of population, while Brooklyn is put down as 88, which gives a further average of 4.8.

Chicago meanwhile had 216 homicides, an average for its population of 5.3.

Cities of the South, those with a large negro population, lead in the number of homicides. After Memphis comes Savannah, Nashville, Atlanta and Charleston, Hartford, Conn., had two homicides during the year, giving it an average of 1.9. The average rate of increase for the year in the thirty cities was 1.2.

Geographically the cities of the country had altogether 514 homicides, the Central 423, the Southern 437 and the Western 21. Altogether 1,477 persons were killed in the cities.

An interesting fact was learned that in the 1903-1912 period 692 children under the age of 5 years were killed throughout the country, 226 between the ages of 5 and 14, 3,812 persons between 15 and 44, and 692 of the age of 45 and over. That gives a total of 5,326 for the nine years, so far as the statistics go, but it does not include the rural South and other districts.

MR. CHOATE FOR JUDGE CHASE.

Says His Election Would Make
Court of Appeals Non-Partisan.

Joseph H. Choate put forth a statement yesterday asking voters to elect Justice Emory A. Chase, Republican, as Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals. He says it is important that the highest court in the State should be non-partisan, and that if a Democrat is elected this year it will have five Democrats and two Republicans.

"There is no court," says Mr. Choate, "which lends, capacity, impartiality and judicial experience to the bench necessary, nor any from which it is more essential that politics should be eliminated. Judge Chase deserves the preference of the voters by reason of his ability, integrity and independence. He has shown exceptional qualifications for high judicial office and has given entire satisfaction to the bar and litigants. The State ought not to be deprived of the benefit of his long judicial experience and demonstrated fitness."

Mr. Vanderbilt Recovering.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Frank A. Vanderbilt, president of the National City Bank of New York, is said to be recovering from a mild attack of typhoid fever at his home, Beechwood, Scarborough. He has been ill one week, and is expected to be out in about ten days. Mr. Vanderbilt, who is visiting on the Pacific coast, is hurrying East to be at the bedside of his wife.

LINER'S OFFICER DROPS FIGHTING FIRE IN HOLD

Officer Pollard of Minnewaska and 12 of Crew Rescued by Firemen.

Extra Day Line Service.

The delinquent autumn weather experienced this year, as in the last few years, and the growing season of it have induced the Hudson River Day Line to continue its service a week longer than usual, or to October 26 from New York and to October 27 from Albany.

There is a river and never during autumnal gales than usual even in the Highlands of the Hudson.

The ship in the hold of the Atlantic Transport liner Minnewaska at the foot of West Twenty-first street early last night required three hours of the hardest kind of fighting before it was put out. Twelve firemen and members of the crew were overcome by smoke. First Officer Stanley Pollard was rescued from lower deck, where he had collapsed while directing the crew, who made a futile attempt to put out the flames.

Battalion Chief Larry McGuire, on hearing that the officer was missing, went to go down and search for him. A rope was tied around his waist and he ventured down a ladder into the steaming pit. He found Pollard unconscious from smoke near the furnace under a forward hatch. The task of carrying him thirty-five feet up the ladder almost proved too much for McGuire. As he neared the top he slipped, and his aid when his strength had about given out.

Pollard was hurried to New York Hospital suffering from inhaling smoke and flames. His condition is serious.

The ship is loading a cargo of sugar for England. Workmen smelted the smoke after they had finished for the day. The fire was sounded by Capt. Thomas Bates and First Officer Pollard went down to direct the crew. They fought the flames for twenty minutes, but were finally driven out. Then a fire alarm was sent in and several engines and fire trucks from the city rushed to the ship.

The damage was estimated at $15,000. Officials of the line said the ship would sail on schedule.

AMUSEMENTS.

These New York Leading Theatres Have No Dealings with the Trust Co.

EMPIRE 4th St. & W. 4th St. Eves. 8 sharp. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. BATES DORO In Bardol's Masterpiece DIPLIMACY.

GILLETTE 4th St. & W. 4th St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. THE BEAUTIFUL ADVENTURE With ANN M. HUGHES.

LYCEUM 4th St. & W. 4th St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. THE GIRL FROM UTAH With ANN M. HUGHES.

Knickerbocker Broadway & 42nd St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. THE GIRL FROM UTAH With ANN M. HUGHES.

LIBERTY West 42nd St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in HE COMES UP SMILING

HARRIS West 42nd St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. TO-NIGHT

SEATS NOW ON SALE.

The Salamander Dramatized by the Author, Owen Johnson. FULTON MATS. WED. THURS. & SAT. 2:15. TWIN BEDS

REPUBLIC West 42nd St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. LEW FIELDS in THE HIGH COST OF LOVING

NEW YORK Broadway & 42nd St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. JOHN MASON GABRIEL

ZIEGFELD DANSE DE FOLLIES 11th St. & Broadway. Eves. 9:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. AMERICAN THEATRE, 1100 Broadway.

This is what happened to the man who tried to write an advertisement describing our Fall overcoats.

After all, it takes a woman to picture accurately to herself the real appearance of a garment from its printed description—men need the concrete example.

So we'll content ourselves with inviting you men to see for yourselves in our stores the new light-weight overcoats.

Everything men and boys wear.

ROGERS PEET COMPANY

Three Broadway Stores at at at Warren St. 13th St. 34th St.

AMUSEMENTS.

CAIETY THEATRE Broadway & 42nd St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. RUTH CHATTERTON IN A NEW COMEDY BY JEAN YVES ESCOFFIER. DADDY LONG-LEGS BELASCO 46 St. & W. 4th St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. DAVID LEO DITRICHSTEIN presents "The Phantom Rival" GEO. CONAN'S THEATRE, Broadway & 42nd St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE ELTINGE 42 St. & W. 4th St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. INNOCENT GARRICK 30th St. & W. 4th St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. Adele Blood in a new play "MILADY'S BOUDOIR" CABRIA 25c. GRAND OP. No. 23d St. & W. 4th St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. JOHN MASON GABRIEL GLOBE Broadway & 46 St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. MONTGOMERY & STONE CHIN-CHIN

AMUSEMENTS.

THE PROPHET 4th St. & W. 4th St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. WARS OF THE WORLD Every Night 1000 Choice Orchestral Seats at $1.50. PRINCESS "New York's Smartest Theatre" 4th St. & W. 4th St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. FIVE WONDERFUL ONE-ACT PLAYS "Little Face, a barbed wire scream" Herald.

48TH ST. THEATRE

THE LAW LAND

FRITZI SCHEFF in PRETTY MRS. SMITH

CASINO

COMEDY. Eves. 8:15. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. CONSEQUENCES 2nd & 3rd Parties

30th ST. THEATRE

THE 3rd PARTY

SHUBERT

MR. FAVERHAM THE HAWK

WILLIAM PLAYHOUSE

MY LADY'S DRESS

SHUBERT

MANUEL SUNDAY

THEATRE CHINOIS

SEATS NOW. Prices 25c to $5.00

CURT UNDER COVER

Subscription Seats in all parts of Metropolitan Opera House for Grand Opera

LOEW'S AMERICAN THEATRE & ROOF

10-15-25c

Marshall P. Wilder

AND TO OTHER FEATURES.

AMUSEMENTS.

WINTER GARDEN Broadway & 42nd St. Eves. 8:30. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. DANCING AROUND JOHNSON

Little Theatre

A PAIR OF SILK STOCKINGS

LYRIC

EVIDENCE

THE BATTLE CRY

BOOTH

THE MONEY MAKERS

William Elliott begs to announce that on Tuesday Evening, Oct. 27, he will present at the Booth Theatre "EVIDENCE," a modern comedy in three acts by George F. Tabor.

44th ST. THEATRE

THE LILAC DOMINO

Maxine Elliott's Whiteside WU

SATURDAY NIGHT AT 8

THEATRE

SEAT SALE NOW.

STANDARD

MME. PETROVA in "PANTHEA"

NEXT WEEK—100 MANY COOKS

Strand

HICK RUDOLPH & HANK GOWDY

Famous Boston Battery, & 15 BLUETS.

VS

BELLEVUE

TONIGHT SUPREME TEST

B. F. KEITH'S OF HOUDINI'S

PALACE CAREER BY

TONIGHT HOSPITAL STAFF

Houdini will be tightly rolled in bandages and then tied to a heavy hospital cot with heavy linen sheets after which 20 buckets of cold water will be used to drench him. Houdini will then try to escape in full view of the audience.